To Whom It May Concern:

Heidi LeGassick is a unique teacher. Her energy and her spirited pursuit of excellence are apparent from the moment you see her. Most of us have had one, or at most, two or three teachers, who we carry in our minds as that "great teacher: and special person.

In fact, Heidi is more than a teacher. She is a walking example of how to live and learn, and her students respond. She is a natural leader of children and colleagues. Formative teachers like Heidi are uncommon, usually appearing once in early schooling, and then once in the middle and more rarely later in high school and university.

I am certain that my children will remember Heidi as one of these exceptional bright lights, as an inspirational teacher who built their confidence, disciplined them when they needed it, but through it all, lit their fire to learn, grow, and contribute to the world.

We were lucky enough to have Heidi teach both of our precious children for K1 at ELC School in Bangkok. And it was not by accident. We were immediately attracted to her great attitude from the moment we visited the school, and after one successful experience, positioned our second child to learn with Heidi too. And we feel very lucky that it worked out that way.

Our family gives Heidi a strong positive and unqualified endorsement for whatever teaching position she seeks.

Sincerely

Thomas and Warunee Hilboldt
